You have indicated on your FAFSA application that SNAP benefits were received by a member of your household. If there is anyone in your household receiving the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program or SNAP (formerly known as the Food Stamp Program) sometime during 2011 or 2012, you must provide verification. SNAP may be known by another name in some states. For assistance in determining the name used in a state, please call 1-800-4FED-AID (1-800-433-3243).

Please check one of the following options:

☐ Yes, a member of my household DID receive SNAP benefits during 2011 and/or 2012. Provide documentation from your DHS caseworker (A printout from the website or re-certification letter will be accepted.)

☐ NO. There was a mistake on my FAFSA application. A member of my household DID NOT receive SNAP benefits in 2011 or 2012.

The household can include:

Independent Students
- The student. Also the student’s spouse, if the student is married.
- The student’s or spouse’s children if the student or spouse will provide more than half of their support from July 1, 2013, through June 30, 2014, even if the children do not live with the student.
- Other people, if they now live with the student and the student’s spouse.

Dependent Students
- The parents or stepparent, even if the student doesn’t live with the parents and is still a dependent.
- The parents’ other children if the parents will provide more than half of their support from July 1, 2013, through June 30, 2014, or if the other children would be required to provide parental information if they were completing a FAFSA for 2013–2014. Include children who meet either of these standards even if the children do not live with the parents.
- For a dependent student, the parent provides more than half of their support and will continue to provide more than half of their support through June 30, 2014.
